We agreed to focus efforts for now on finding a base model to facilitate empirical identification. Our candidates:

1. Groseclose & Snyder (1996)
 - Perhaps add, as in Sebastian's book, that legislators are constrained by voters?
2. Dal Bo, Bribing Voters
 - Adds uncertainty to Groseclose/Snyder. What kind?
3. Justin Fox, Political Analysis (2011)
4. A variant of Grossman and Helpman I've been working on

Questions

1. What kinds of results do we want to produce?
